

STOCKS MOVE REGULARLY

Industrial and Oil Securities Make Several Rallies in Late Trading.

Movements in the outside market yesterday were again irregular. In the early trading prices worked to lower levels, particularly in the oils, in which renewed bear pressure sent prices down a point or more. In the late afternoon there were several rallies in the industrial and the oils, but no definite price trend was in evidence. Heavy activity occurred in the metals, but they did not get anywhere, except shortly before the close, when small gains were made. Home field stocks led the downward movement in the morning, but White Oil and Gilliland recovered. The downward movement of Stims, however, continued to the close and a loss of about two points was shown. Bondall was strong and a steady tone was maintained in Carb Syndicate. Pacific Coal, in which interest was again revived in recent seasons, was again active and scored a further gain. Mining shares were generally dull and little change occurred in bonds. Russian Government securities were active. Foreign trading in Steiner Oil started on the curb yesterday. The New York Curb Market Association has approved its listing and active trading in it will begin tomorrow at 115 to 117 1/2. A. L. Chambers & Co. were the bankers who brought out that issue. LONDON STOCK MARKET

Early Weakness Followed by Good Recovery in Feature.

Copyright, 1920, all rights reserved. London, Jan. 29.—The London market in today's stock markets was early weak, followed by good recovery in investment securities. Better trading at the close was due to a rally in foreign exchange on the idea that something would be done to check depreciation in currency threatening serious consequences on the Continent.

Consolidated in the Street, other than the general tendency of the market was unsatisfactory at the close. Eastern telegraph stock had a sharp advance and draperies again showed activity and strength.

Money was more usable during the greater part of the day. The more usual rate for the day loans was 3 1/2 per cent, but toward the close unemployed balances were placed at 3 per cent.

There was not much business in the discount market and the rates remained at Wednesday's levels. After bank returns figures appeared slightly better, interest for bills was reported in some quarters.

New York exchange opened better than it came from the other side and after being 3 1/4 and 3 1/2, closed at 3 1/2, against 3 1/2 on Wednesday. Berlin, after improving to 220 and reacting to 230, closed at 255, against 252 1/2 on Wednesday.
